The mission of the AMERICAN BATTLEFIELD TRUST is to preserve America's hallowed battlegrounds and educate the public about what happened there and why it matters.

THE AMERICAN BATTLEFIELD TRUST'S work to ensure that a love of history is kindled in the hearts of current and future generations has never been stronger, or more important. Knowing where we come from allows us to move with greater purpose in the world. And here at the Trust, we're grounded in a story of a few fiercely devoted preservationists... that have, in our 34 years, multiplied into thousands of preservationists that allow us to fulfil our purpose-driven mission.

PRESERVE

THROUGHOUT its 34-year history, the Trust has cumulatively saved more than 54,000 acres of battlefield land. This includes more than 1,273 acres through 33 transactions at 25 battlefields in eight states during 2021 alone. A full listing of those transactions follows.

The Trust made extraordinary strides in both the Eastern and Western Theaters of the Civil War. At Tennessee's Lookout Mountain, the Trust filled the "hole in the donut" by helping preserve two parcels encompassing over 300 acres. This effort marked the preservation of one of the single largest tracts yet available that is associated with Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military Park.

The Trust also protected over 76 acres around Vicksburg, Mississippi, that faced imminent threats of residential development, including Vicksburg's Railroad Redoubt and a critical tract at Raymond.

Building on years of preservation efforts in the Tar Heel State, the Trust added over 90 acres to the Bentonville and Averagesboro Battlefields. The Trust has now saved more acreage at Bentonville than any other battlefield outside of Virginia.

Bringing its preservation portfolio to a new level, the Trust saved land at its 150th battlefield site in 2021 — at the Revolutionary-era Great Bridge Battlefield in Virginia. In other battlefield firsts, the Trust also saved 31 acres at South Carolina's Parker's Ferry Battlefield, which will compose just one of approximately 80 Southern Campaign sites on "The Liberty Trail."

The Trust also broke records in obtaining federal funding for battlefield preservation. In November, the Trust was awarded the largest battlefield land acquisition grant in the history of the National Park Service's American Battlefield Protection Program (ABPP). This $4.6 million grant helped fund the Trust's preservation efforts at the $9.2 million James Custis Farm at the Williamsburg Battlefield, along with additional grant funding from a plethora of partners.

The Trust's preservation work continues to charge forward, with more than 1,000 acres in the process of being preserved. This includes the second phase of the "Gaines' Mill – Cold Harbor Saved Forever" Campaign, which aims to protect nearly one square mile of the most important unprotected battlefield land in the country.★

BETWEEN JANUARY 1, 2021, AND DECEMBER 31, 2021, the American Battlefield Trust completed 33 individual transactions, protecting a total of 1,273 acres at 25 battlefields in 8 states. This land is valued at over $33 million, but thanks to a host of matching grants and other revenue sources, the Trust secured its preservation through a net cash outlay of only $1.6 million — a leverage factor of 20.6-to-1.

EDUCATE

THE AMERICAN Battlefield Trust sought to fill minds with knowledge of America's first 100 years, creating a variety of resources for students, teachers and lifelong learners. Despite the ongoing pandemic restricting in-person events, it again expanded the opportunities for virtual outreach and unique outdoor events.

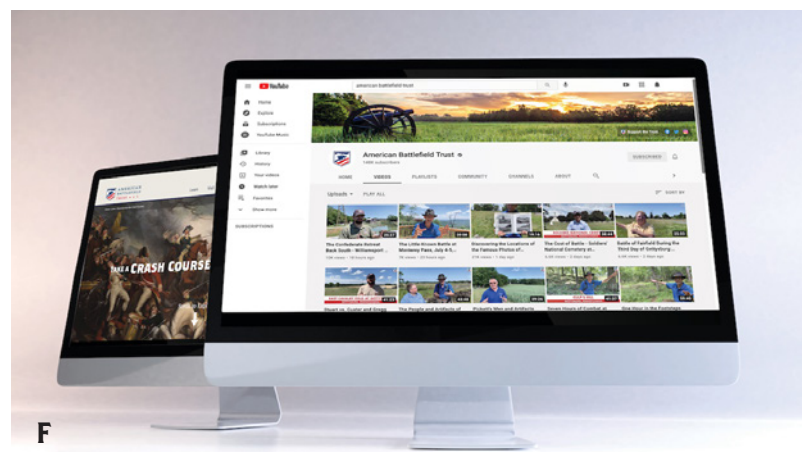

With two Virtual Teacher Institutes, the Trust professionally developed more teachers than we ever have, uniting some 800 virtual participants from three continents in online classrooms. These educators will reach more than 24,000 students with improved resources for history education.

With boots on the battlefields, "Twilight Tours" debuted a new summer experience for Trust members with history hikes at 27 sites across six states, to take advantage of the season's warm nights while embracing stories from knowledgeable historians. New interpretive signs were also installed at Brandywine and New Market Heights, plus scores of "Preserved Forever" signs were placed to highlight the hallowed ground our members have helped save.

Creation of digital content remains a key focus. This year, the organization — along with special guests — hit the field in eight states, producing 129 videos on the very land where history unfolded. Additionally, the curtain was raised on the "Untold" series. The product of a partnership with the Driving Force Institute for Public Engagement, these videos aim to navigate how America was established as a grand experiment in representative democracy — with freedoms hard-won on the battlefield and enshrined in our founding documents and civic infrastructure.

Throughout 2021, we expanded our digital content and strove to make it more accessible and engaging. On average, we launched a new article, map, itinerary or primary source page each day, plus a new video every other day! We debuted two new learning hubs, "Fighting for Freedom" and "Here From the Start" in February and November, encouraging a more expansive look at our nation's military history. In the last 12 months, the Trust's videos have yielded more than 14,000,000 views on YouTube, Facebook and TikTok alone. Wrapping up the year, the much-anticipated two-hour video driving tour of Gettysburg Battlefield was released.

Through generous donors, the Trust offers these educational highlights and a variety of other K-12 programs at minimal or no cost to students and teachers. In 2021, more than $1,000,000 was raised for educational initiatives, helping to ensure the Trust's mission to instill an understanding of this nation's formative conflicts within the current and rising generations of Americans.★

INSPIRE

DEMONSTRATING our commitment to weave the threads of America's early conflicts within the sweeping tapestry of our present day lives, the American Battlefield Trust looks to the stories engrained in America's hallowed ground to forge connections. Establishing an understanding of why those events matter today, we want to inspire this and future generations to action — to encourage civic pride and help shape a better America.

We continued to showcase the deep connections that the modern military retains to our historic forebearers through its Warrior Legacy initiative, sponsoring the American Veterans Archaeological Recovery's second archaeological dig at Saratoga National Historical Park and declaring our intention to sponsor the group once again in February 2022. Through battlefield archaeology, veterans possess an unparalleled level of understanding.

To remember the valor of the founding generation as the nation prepares for the 250th anniversary of its founding, we joined forces with the Daughters of the American Revolution. With them at our side, we've pledged to work with the National Park Service to protect 2,500 acres of Revolutionary War battlefield land by the end of 2026. Plus, we will strive to create a groundbreaking online gateway that brings to life the fascinating people and places of the Revolutionary era.

Student voices have remained top of mind. The 2021–2022 Youth Leadership Team represents the third cohort of history-enthused teens, all driven to bring the topic of battlefield preservation and education to classmates, neighbors and local decisionmakers. Putting her creative mind to work, Charlotte Yeung (2020–2021) wrote, illustrated and published a children's book promoting historic and environmental preservation for her capstone project. When asked why historic preservation matters to her, she claimed "because it's a visceral way for us to connect with the past."

Our on-site storytelling abilities were also given a superb boost by way of the American Battlefield Protection Program's (ABPP) new Battlefield Interpretation Grants. Going beyond matching funds to facilitate the protection and study of battlefields, ABPP hopes to expand and modernize battlefield interpretation. Having been awarded five of the 11 new grants, the Trust aims to inspire wonder, understanding and empathy at the places that witnessed some of our nation's most challenging events.★

REVENUES, GAINS AND OTHER SUPPORT

The Trust is a cash-flow business and, as a result, looking at static revenues and expenses, like those seen here, can be misleading. As soon as land is saved, it is capitalized and goes straight to our balance sheet (assets), not shown in the expenses displayed here. Therefore, much of our land preservation activities are not represented in the expenses. The land that we've saved and currently own makes up the biggest portion of our assets.

DEDICATED to connecting Americans with their history on the ground where it was forged through battlefield preservation and education, the American Battlefield Trust remains firmly committed to upholding the very highest standards of fiscal responsibility and meticulous management of the donations entrusted to us by our supporters. The Trust understands that among the many worthwhile charitable causes an individual may back, our members' choice to contribute their hard-earned monies to our organization represents not only a steadfast belief in our mission, but also remarkable confidence in the Trust's ability to execute the various aspects of that mission with success.

Our staff works diligently to serve as effective and efficient stewards of our members' contributions. Since the organization's genesis in the 1980s, we have successfully preserved more than 54,000 acres of America's battlefields, putting every dollar we can directly toward land preservation and the creation of educational resources that expand upon the nation's formative first century. In addition to the sound fiscal management that allows the Trust to maximize the amount of funding used for program services, we aim to magnify donor contributions by carefully and resourcefully utilizing matching grants from numerous sources, which frequently multiplies donor contributions by a factor of three or more. Essentially, the Trust has pledged its accountability for delivering tangible, measurable, and verifiable accomplishments in the pursuit of our mission.

In recognition of our spectacular work in the arena of fiscal responsibility — made possible by individuals like you — the Trust continues to be regarded as a four-star charitable organization from the nonprofit watchdog group, Charity Navigator. This achievement is the highest awarded by the charity evaluator and puts the Trust in the top one percent of the nation's nonprofits. But this was not the only accolade

With the continued passion and generosity of our wonderful donors, the Trust keeps charging forward in the pursuit of our profound mission.★

Please note: A comparison of this year's results to the prior year shows that our expenses remained flat if not smaller, slightly skewing the percentages, due in part to the reduced level of some activities associated with the pandemic.

DONOR RECOGNITION SOCIETIES

THE TRUST is deeply indebted to each individual who chooses to support our work and maintains several donor recognition societies that recognize them. The Color Bearer Society consists of those who make an annual membership contribution in excess of $1,000. The Honor Guard legacy giving society recognizes those who have made the American Battlefield Trust a beneficiary of their estate plans. The Steadfast honors those individuals who have made more than 100 individual gifts over the course of their membership.

The significant growth we have experienced in these categories has rendered these lists so long that they have driven up our printing costs significantly. Thus, we have made the decision to include those lists only in the digital version of this report, which can be viewed at www.battlefields.org/AnnualReport2021.
