The mission of the AMERICAN BATTLEFIELD TRUST is to preserve America's hallowed battlegrounds and to educate the public about what happened there and why it matters today.

A NOTE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Since its genesis in the 1980s, the American Battlefield Trust has been driven by a passion to tell our extraordinary national story through the conflicts of our foundational first century. We hold that America's hallowed battlefields provide unparalleled outdoor classrooms for Americans of all ages to learn from the past, walking on the land where our nation was created and defined. Throughout the course of 2023, we worked harder than ever to expand our impact on historic landscapes, to produce the highest quality educational resources and, ultimately,

to inspire appreciation of America, its history, and its promise of liberty through an understanding of the wars fought on its soil, and of the sacrifices of earlier generations of Americans.

Thank you for joining us in this critical work, and for all that you do to preserve America's history and hallowed ground.

DAVID DUNCAN, President

ALUMNI BOARD

PRESERVE

SINCE ITS FOUNDING nearly four decades ago, the American Battlefield Trust, together with its steadfast supporters and partners, has succeeded in preserving forever more than 58,000 acres of hallowed battlefield land.

In 2023, the Trust completed 49 transactions at 29 battlefields in 11 states, saving a total of 2,088 historic acres. Among these preservation victories were 20 acres of the Jacob Avey Farm, some of the most hallowed ground at Antietam (Md.), almost 154 acres at Shiloh (Tenn.), nearly 179 acres at the Wilderness (Va.) and many more. A full listing of acres saved can be found in the adjacent column.

To start the year, the Trust came into possession of 117 acres at Buffington Island, Ohio, marking the 25th state in which the organization has preserved land and ushering in an exciting milestone — permanently protecting land in half the states in the Union.

Preservation projects launched in 2023 spanned multiple theaters in both the Revolutionary and Civil Wars. The past year saw the highly anticipated continuation of our crucial efforts in the "Gaines Mill – Cold Harbor Saved Forever Campaign" with its fourth phase, the "Cavalry Charge" tract. The Trust was also tremendously excited to announce the launch of a new $3 million fundraising campaign to preserve the remainder of land at the former Gettysburg Country Club. Alongside The Conservation Fund, the Trust will propel efforts more than 15 years in the making to preserve 15 acres of hallowed ground that played a key role on the first day of fighting at the Battle of Gettysburg.

Thanks to our wonderful members and partners, the Trust also succeeded in saving key Revolutionary War sites, including almost 260 acres at Newtown, N.Y., and small, but critical parcels in Charleston and at Hobkirk Hill, S.C. These victories successfully advanced our goal of preserving 2,500 acres of Revolutionary War battlefield land in celebration of the upcoming 250th anniversary of the American Revolution. In addition to these important achievements, the Trust also moved forward with launching the transformational "Washington's Legacy" plan to revitalize the Between January 1, 2023, and December 31, 2023, the American Battlefield Trust completed 49 individual transactions, protecting a total of 2,087.58 acres at 29 battlefields in 11 states. This land is valued at $27,328,951, but thanks to a host of matching grants and other revenue sources, the Trust secured its preservation through a net cash outlay of only $7,536,992 — a leverage factor of 3.6-to-1.

EDUCATE

BOLSTERING the phenomenal preservation work you helped to make possible, our team has also continued to make great strides in another key element of our mission – educating the public about what happened on our nation’s most hallowed ground and why it still matters today.

America’s battlefields remain some of the very best outdoor classrooms there are to educate future generations about our shared history. In 2023, the Trust’s History Field Trip Grant Program made it possible for more than 6,000 students and teachers to visit battlefields and historic sites. Since its creation, this important program has helped more than 45,000 students and educators to visit our nation’s most historic places and walk in the footsteps of the men and women who shaped America’s history. Five new virtual field trips also made their debut in 2023, taking some 425,000 learners to Charleston, S.C., Boston, Mass., New Orleans, La., Baltimore, Md., and Vicksburg, Miss.

The Trust’s virtual and in-person Teacher Institutes both marked important successes in 2023 as well. Together, the institutes helped to provide professional development for 1,335 educators from nearly every U.S. state and multiple countries. Each of these educators will in turn impact thousands of students over the course of their careers.

2023 also proved to be a record high year for audience engagement with our educational content – our website witnessed more than 19 million visits, at least 80% of which were from students, and our videos received more than 13 million views. From an enhanced Civil War Battle Maps App that allows users to geolocate themselves on a battlefield to new augmented reality experiences and more, our arsenal of online educational content continues to grow. In 2023 alone, the Trust’s Education and Digital teams added hundreds of new articles, biographies, maps, battle pages, and more than 230 new videos to our website. Of particular note is the Trust’s brand new “Step Into History” series, which has been nominated for a 2023 Anthem Award.

The past year also brought a new cohort of our Youth Leadership Team. These extraordinary students continue to work diligently on the battlefield preservation, education, and visitation projects they are undertaking in their local communities, inspiring all those they encounter with their passion, creativity, and appreciation for America’s story.★

INSPIRE

IN ADDITION to preserving hallowed battlefield land and producing top quality educational resources, the Trust also worked enthusiastically throughout 2023 to inspire a deeper appreciation for our nation’s history and heritage.

The year brought several meaningful and exciting opportunities for our donors to experience battlefields and to witness the work they’ve made possible firsthand, including a Donor Thank You Weekend in Atlantic Beach, Fla., in February, our Annual Conference in Franklin, Tenn., in May, and our Grand Review in Williamsburg, Va., in October.

The Trust’s 27th annual Park Day event in April brought more than 3,200 volunteers to 108 sites across 27 states to participate in hands-on cleanup projects that rejuvenated and prepared our nation’s battlefields and historic sites for visitors throughout the year.

This year also witnessed new and ever-increasing development threats, which compelled the Trust to ramp up its advocacy efforts. In Orange County, Va., the Trust joined forces with local nonprofits and private citizens to oppose a mega-development that would mar the landscape near the Wilderness Battlefield. The Trust also became involved with efforts to prevent a proposed gas station in the heart of the Chancellorsville Battlefield and joined forces with other passionate preservationists to advocate against plans that would build the world’s largest data center complex adjacent to the Manassas Battlefield — on some of the very land where the modern battlefield preservation movement was born.

In December, the Trust launched two of its most exciting new ventures: The first, a traveling exhibition of the American Revolution Experience, created in partnership with the Daughters of the American Revolution, will travel to scores of libraries, historical societies and museums throughout 2024; the second, the Trust’s first ever “Prize for History,” sponsored entirely by a generous donor, will award a $50,000 prize annually to an exceptional work of military history or biography, showcasing the rich research potential of historic battlefields.

Along with our land preservation victories and educational offerings, the Trust continues to work tirelessly to advance our mission — and we could not be more grateful for the support of individuals like you as we strive together to preserve, educate and inspire.★

REVENUES, GAINS AND OTHER SUPPORT

The Trust is a cash-flow business, and as a result, looking at static revenues and expenses, like those seen here, can be misleading. As soon as land is saved, it is capitalized and goes straight to our balances sheet (assets), not shown in the expenses displayed here. Therefore, much of our land preservation activities are not represented in the expenses. The land that we've saved and currently own makes up the biggest portion of our assets.

AS AMERICA'S PREMIERE battlefield preservation organization, thoroughly dedicated to connecting present and future generations with their history on the very ground where it happened, the American Battlefield Trust remains staunchly committed to upholding the very highest standards of fiscal responsibility and meticulous management of the funds so carefully entrusted to us by our wonderful donors. The Trust understands that among the many worthwhile charitable causes an individual may support, our members' decision to contribute their hard-earned monies to our organization represents not only a steadfast belief in our mission, but also an incredible confidence in the Trust's ability to execute this mission successfully.

Our staff works diligently to serve as effective and efficient stewards of our members' contributions. Since our origins in the 1980s, the Trust has successfully preserved more than 58,000 acres of America's battlefields. Our objective remains to put every single dollar we can towards land preservation and the creation of educational resources that tell the story of our nation's formative first century. In addition to the sound fiscal management that allows the Trust to maximize the amount of funding used for program services, we aim each and every year to magnify donor contributions by carefully and resourcefully utilizing matching grants from numerous sources – federal, state, and local – which regularly multiplies donor contributions by a factor of three or more. The Trust has pledged its accountability for delivering tangible, measurable, and verifiable accomplishments in the pursuit of our mission.

In recognition of our exceptional efforts in the arena of fiscal responsibility – made possible by dedicated individuals like you – the Trust has earned several significant accolades acknowledging the accountability and integrity that defines our operations. We continue to be regarded as a four-star charitable organization by the nonprofit watchdog group, Charity Navigator. This achievement is the highest awarded by the charity evaluator and puts the Trust in the top one percent of the nation's nonprofits. We also

DONOR RECOGNITION SOCIETIES

THE TRUST is deeply indebted to each individual who chooses to support our work and maintains several donor recognition societies that recognize them. The Color Bearer Society consists of those who make an annual membership contribution in excess of $1,000. The Honor Guard legacy giving society recognizes those who have made the American Battlefield Trust a beneficiary of their estate plans. The Steadfast honors those individuals who have made more than 100 individual gifts over the course of their membership.

The significant growth we have experienced in these categories has rendered these lists so long that they have driven up our printing costs significantly. Thus, we have made the decision to include those lists only in the digital version of this report, which can be viewed at www.battlefields.org/AnnualReport2023.
