7. Analyzing a Primary Source Letter

ANTICIPATORY SET/HOOK:

1. Distribute Anticipatory Questions to each student
2. Have students complete their observations and answer questions with a partner.

PROCEDURE

Print out the PowerPoint with notes prior to class. There are notes included with the slides that can be seen on the printouts, but won’t be seen by your students during the presentation.

Activity 1

1. Pass out the Life at War Worksheet to each student.
2. Read and discuss the Life at War PowerPoint with your class, discussing different aspects of soldiering.
3. Work together to complete the Life at War Worksheet during the Power Point presentation.

Activity 2

1. For the last two slides in the Power Point, pass out Where Battles Happen and discuss as a class why battles happen in relation to railroads, waterways, and capitals, filling in the boxes.
2. Discuss the second question, “Where else might a battle occur?”

CLOSURE:

1. As a class, read Samuel Cabble’s and John Sweet’s letters home.
   a. If you have are not planning on using the Antietam and Emancipation Lesson Plan, have your students watch Black Soldiers In4 on battlefields.org.
2. Analyze their letters using the Analyzing a Primary Source Letter.

ASSESSMENT IN THIS LESSON:

1. Completed the Life at War Worksheet
2. Responses to the Anticipatory Questions
3. Informal assessment through questions during the PowerPoint presentation
4. Primary source letter analysis
My Dear Jennie,
At this writing the sun is mounting the heavens seemingly in a chariot of fire. The morning is very fine, but I think there are indications of a storm. The river for miles on either shore seems lined with boats, loaded with troops, stores, and munitions of war. Truly it is an imposing sight. I don’t know how long we remain here, and when we leave, I don’t know where we are going. ¹

Can you describe the person who you think is writing this letter?

How do they seem to feel at this time? Why do you think this?

What information can you learn from the citation at the bottom of the page?

Who are the men in the picture?

What do they appear to be doing?

What year was this taken? What is happening at this time?

What does their mood seem to be? Why do you think this?

Samuel Cabble’s Letter Home

Samuel Cabble, a Private in the Fifty-fifth Massachusetts Infantry (colored), was a slave before he joined the U.S. Army. He was twenty-one years old.
Massachusetts
1863

Dear Wife i have enlisted in the army i am now in the state of Massachusetts but before this letter reaches you i will be in North Carolina and though great is the present national difficulties yet i look forward to a brighter day When i shall have the opertunity of seeing you in the full enjoyment of fredom i would like to no if you are still in slavery if you are it will not be long before we shall have crushed the system that now opreses you for in the course of three months you shall have your liberty. great is the outpouring of the colored peopl that is now rallying with the hearts of lions against that very curse that has seperated you an me yet we shall meet again and oh what a happy time that will be when this ungodly rebellion shall be put down and the curses of our land is trampled under our feet i am a soldier now and i shall use my utmost endeavor to strike at the rebellion and the heart of this system that so long has kept us in chains ... remain your own afectionate husband until death*

Samuel Cabble

Samuel Cabble returned to Missouri for his wife, and together they moved to Denver, Colorado.

John Sweet’s Letter Home

Letter from John Sweet, Confederate Soldier, to His Parents
Tennessee
November 1863

We have just returned from a trip into East Tenn where we got big amounts of everything to eat and everything we eat is so good to me as I had been starved out so long on some bread & beef, all that we got while we were here besieging Chattanooga. up there we got sweet and Irish potatoes, chickens, molasses, wheat bread and everything that was good for a poor soldier. Oh, how I do wish that I could be at home now, for it is getting late in the evening and I have had nothing to eat since breakfast and no telling when we will get rations for our rations are out, since we left our ration wagons behind in coming here to this place, for I know you have all had a good & plentiful dinner. I know you will say poor John, but this is only a chapter in military service which we often read, but I am content and will be more so when we get rations. The independence of the bounty is what I want and I am willing to suffer for something to eat many, many days if it will only send me to my dear parents, a full and independent boy.
